Monday: “How a Seed Grows” (read aloud, storybook). Discuss the stages of seed growth.

EXPERIMENT

Wet a paper towel. Fold the damp towel in half, sandwiching a Lima Bean seed between the towels. Press lightly on top the towel so the seed is in full contact with the towels on both sides. Slide the paper towel into a plastic zip-top bag. Seal the bag closed to trap the moisture and prevent the towel from drying out. Have your child draw a picture of this first step. As the seed progresses to the plant stage, have your child document changes. At the end of the week (Friday), take a picture of the documented changes and text or email it to me.

Wednesday: “Seeds Go, Seeds Grow” by Mark Weakland

Friday: “How Does A Seed Become A Plant?”
